MONSTER PUBLIC MEETING.

Thistle Rink Filled by an Immense Audience Last Evening when Western Members of Parliament Discussed the Autonomy Bills.

The largest audience ever present at a public meeting in this city taxed the seating accommodation of the Thistle rink last evening to hear the autonomy bills discussed by the western members of Parliament. The four front rows of seats had been reserved for ladies, but proved insufficient and there was a generous percentage of the fair sex throughout the body of the hall.

The attendance was by no means limited to the supporters of Mr. Oliver, practically everyone in the city interested in public affairs being present.

The band played in front of the building for a half hour before the hour set for opening the meeting and proceedings were begun shortly after 8 o'clock.

C. W. Cross, president of the Edmonton District Liberal Association, was chairman and on the platform were Hon. F. Oliver, Walter Scott, M.P., West Assiniboia, J. G. Turfiff, M.P., East Assiniboia, P. Talbot, M.P., Strathcona, A. C. Rutherford, M.P., Strathcona, Dr. DeVeber, M.L.A., Lethbridge; Mr. Finlay, M.L.A., Medicine Hat; Mr. McCauley, ex-M.L.A., Beaver Lake; J. R. Boyle, Dr. Cheneau, P. E. Lessard, Ald. Edward, D. Tierney, St. Albert, and others.

J. G. TURRIF, M.P.

Mr. Turfiff was briefly introduced by the chairman. He was pleased to be present. When he left Ottawa some time since, he was not sure from the statements of the Toronto papers whether he would be able to make himself understood in Edmonton if he spoke in English. He had been here a week, however, had driven out daily to different parts of the country and he did not think more intelligent English-speaking people could be found anywhere than in the Edmonton constituency, nor people better qualified to judge the merits of the autonomy bills.

He had known Mr. Oliver many years, had sat with him in the old North-West council over twenty years ago, and he did not know a man who had better represented his constituency. Sir Wilfrid had shown his usual good judgment in choosing the man best qualified, and the new Minister would have the loyal and hearty support of the Western members.

He outlined the large duties devolving upon the Minister of the Interior, calling this the most important portfolio in the Government. He predicted that, great as had been the changes of the past five years in the North-West, they would be eclipsed by those of the future.

P. TALBOT, M.P.

P. Talbot, M.P. for Strathcona, was received with applause. He said he would not occupy much time, as there were on the platform two of the heavyweights of Parliamentary debate. He said the satisfaction at the appointment of Mr. Oliver was not limited to the western members nor to the liberals. When the western members were en route west, they found the enthusiasm over the appointment increased continually. At Fort William every one smiled, at Winnipeg everybody shook hands with them, but when they got to Alberta the people almost hugged them. There had been great rejoicing among the Western members when the news of the appointment was made known. Mr. Oliver had the experience, ability, energy and perseverance to administer the Department successfully.

WALTER SCOTT, M.P.

The member for West Assiniboia, was greeted with applause when he rose to address the meeting. Though he never came before an audience with feeling of unalloyed pleasure and had to admit something of nervousness, he could say he had never had greater pleasure than in rising to take the first opportunity of publicly tendering his congratulations to the new Minister of the Interior.

He thought the people of the two provinces were to be congratulated that the first district which had the privilege of expressing an opinion on the Autonomy Bills seemed likely to respond by returning the Government candidate by acclamation, though he should be the last to ask the people to assent to what they thought a wrong principle.

He read extracts from the speech of Premier Roblin at Balduf to show that Mr. Roblin thought it an advantage to a district to have as its representative the Minister of the Interior.

OLIVER ELECTED

FOR EDMONTON BY ACCLAMATION.

The Minister of the Interior returned without Opposition To-day.

Nominations for the bye-election in the Federal electoral district of Edmonton were held today and resulted in the election of Hon. F. Oliver by acclamation. Nominations were opened by Returning Officer P. E. Butchart in the council chamber at 12 o'clock noon today and as prescribed by law, remained open until 2 p.m. when, no other candidate having been nominated, he declared Mr. Oliver elected by acclamation.

A large number of business men had gathered in the chamber and the announcement of the returning officer was greeted with vociferous applause.

The nomination paper was signed by Messrs. K. W. MacKenzie, K. R. McLeod, H. Ross, J. W. Whiteaw, John McLennan and Wilfrid Garlepy.

NEW C.P.R. BRANCH.

Free Press.—The contract for the construction of the Wolseley-Reston branch of the C.P.R. has been awarded to J. D. McArthur. The work will begin at once.

"Yes," said Mr. McArthur, when asked about the report. "I have been awarded the contract, and at the first of next week will send out an outfit consisting of about 200 teams and 500 men. This will not be all that is required to complete the work within the specified time. Though the whole line when completed will be some 120 miles long, we only expect to finish about 60 miles this fall, though we may be able to handle even more. At any rate we will have 60 miles to hand over to the operating department by November."

This is the first contract that has been awarded for the construction of western branches and extensions of the C.P.R. for the coming season. The appropriation and plans for it were passed last winter, and no time has been lost in beginning the work. The line in question is 127 miles in length, and runs from Wolseley, a town on the main line of the C.P.R. in section 11, township 17, range 10, west of the second meridian, to Reston, a town on the Arcola branch in section 9, township 7, range 27, Manitoba. It is the intention to carry the line northwest from Reston, completing 60 or more miles this season, and leaving the balance for next year. The country to be traversed is almost entirely wheat land of the first class, and a portion of it has been settled for a number of years. It is especially easy for railroad work, there being but little cutting or filling necessary, and no bridges of any size to delay the work. Mr. McArthur has had a wide experience in this class of work, and will undoubtedly make good his promise to have a large section of the line completed next fall.

The announcement of the construction has been received with great favor by the people of the district tapped, and it has greatly enhanced the value of property there.

MONSTER PUBLIC MEETING.

Mr. Oliver did not agree with Mr. Robin in claiming a monopoly for this portfolio for any part of the west. The principle of selection should be the desire to get the best man for the position and the selection of Mr. Oliver. He might not be giving away family secrets to say that when the Premier had asked his advice some time since, he had advised the appointment of Mr. Oliver.

Referring to the Autonomy question he said this was now near the final stage and it remained for the people of Edmonton to say if the terms were satisfactory. The speaker was fully into the financial provisions of the bill, comparing them with the terms secured by the other provinces and saying they were better than his, and probably than other Western members had hoped for. This he considered the really important matter. The kind of school system was of less importance than the question as to whether we should have the money to maintain any kind of a system. He read from the speeches of Premier Robin and Messrs Foster and Monk, attacking the bills because the financial terms were too generous.

Regarding the school clauses of the bill he was surprised at the concern displayed by outsiders in the matter. Previous to February 21, no person or public body had demanded that the present system be not continued. Mr. Haultain's draft bill fastened a separate school system on the province. Mr. Haultain had never intimated to his colleagues nor to the Federal Government any wish that any other system should be created than the present. On the whole he said the bills would place the people of the new provinces in a better position than their neighbors in other provinces and with efficient and economical administration the tax rates should be correspondingly lower.

MR. OLIVER.

The Minister of the Interior was received with vigorous applause. He was genuinely pleased to address such a meeting and under such circumstances. Edmonton was now to the front as never before. Heretofore the isolated location had made political battles local affairs, but on the platform were friends who had travelled all the way from the far south-eastern part of the Territories to be present at the meeting and to take a hand in the campaign. If such there was to be, he thanked the gentlemen who had inconvenienced themselves in this manner, and also the large audience for their presence and appreciation, already so kindly expressed.

The charge had been made against him that his appointment was the price of treachery, value received for the sacrifice of the principles of himself and his constituents. For himself he would say nothing, for a man's reputation must rest upon more than his own words. But he would speak for the principles of the people of Edmonton as he had known them for twenty-two years. During that time he had appeared to the people eight times, and on seven of these occasions had been endorsed by large and increasing majorities. His endorsement had been given when his name could look for profit and when some might have expected him to be in communion with all the North-West. Edmonton was to be a leader from the favorable terms of the autonomy bills, the charge was made that he had sacrificed principle and that the constituency would endorse that sacrifice on the grounds of material interest. He was not think the people of Edmonton should not be condemned for supporting him under unfavorable circumstances when they had continuously done so under adverse conditions.

The financial terms of the bill he believed were generally satisfactory, and he would not further allude to it. But on the school question he proposed to have a heart to heart talk with his friends present and with opponents as well, if there were any.

The opposition to the school clauses originated in Ontario, and was he assumed among by the mistaken notion of Ontario people that separate schools in the North-West meant ecclesiastically-controlled schools, as in Ontario. Such was not the case. In the Territories the absolute control of the school system is in the hands of the State.

The two points on which the attack was being made was the alleged breach of "Provincial Rights" and the alleged "Dominance of the Roman Catholic hierarchy."

Taking up the first of these points, he read the educational clauses of the British North America Act and said that it did not matter one jot or tittle what the Federal Government said regarding educational matters. The provinces would still have, and would have no more than the powers conferred on them by this Act of the Imperial Parliament. If the school clauses in the autonomy bill were constitutional, then the rights given by them were guaranteed in any event by the B. N. A. Act. If the clauses were not constitutional, the act of the Canadian Parliament did not make them so.

The argument had been made that if this were the case, the Autonomy bills should say nothing about the school question, and leave the protection of the minority rights reserved therein to the operation of the B. N. A. Act through the courts. To have dealt with the matter in this way would no doubt, have been a good political move. But it would have left the school system of the Territories to be finally decided upon

LEVER BROTHERS LIMITED, TORONTO, CANADA.

In case of appeal, by order of the Imperial Privy Council. The appeals made, if such were made, would not be to maintain the existing system, but to revert to the dual system which prevailed from '84 to '92 in which the principle of clerical control was as firmly and fully established as in Ontario. Under such circumstances we would not have one chance in a hundred of retaining our present system of absolute state controlled schools, under a decision of the Imperial Privy Council.

The objection to the original clauses was that they did not sufficiently provide for the certain continuance of the present system and, though Mr. Sifton laid aside the honors and emoluments of office on account of them, the portfolio of the Interior remained upon until such guarantee had been incorporated in the bills in words which could not be misconstrued. The Western Liberal members assumed responsibility for having insisted on the definite retention of the present state controlled system instead of leaving an opportunity for litigation and its uncertain results.

Referring to the charge of Roman Catholic dominance, Mr. Oliver said he spoke as a Protestant to Protestants; and while not wishing to offend, must tell his Roman Catholic hearers that the question of clerical interference was the "touchy spot" of Protestantism. Had the recent bills not made definite provision for the maintenance of the present system of absolute state control of schools, he would have been in the procession in opposition to them.

He read a speech recently delivered by the Bishop of Three Rivers, and a resolution introduced some years ago into the Northwest Assembly to show that the present system was not the system desired by the Roman Catholic hierarchy.

He referred to the effort made by the Greenway Government to establish purely national schools in the province of Manitoba, and he pointed out that this effort was not only opposed by the Roman Catholics but was also attacked by Protestants on the ground that the new measure meant the introduction of "godless schools." The bill had to be modified in consequence of that attack, and provision had to be made for religious instruction at the order of the provincial board of education which naturally would be Protestant. This established a substantial advantage on the part of Roman Catholics; with the ultimate result that today Manitoba has in operation many of the most objectionable features of the Ontario separate school system, including that of clerical control of Roman Catholic schools, while the North-West has in operation and has had since 1892 a school system absolutely under state control. The difference between the separate schools of Ontario and those of the North-West was that the Ontario system provided for the separation into two educational camps of the Protestants and Roman Catholics, while the purpose and result that Roman Catholic primary education was absolutely dominated by the Roman Catholic clergy. In the North-West there was no such division between Roman Catholics and Protestants. The separation permitted in the North-West was to enable a religious minority whether Protestant or Roman Catholic to protect itself against clerical domination or intolerance on the part of the religious minority. Separation in Ontario was to establish and enforce clerical dominance. Separation in the North-West was for the protection of a minority against such dominance. [The evidence that the protection was effective was found in the fact that out of the hundreds of schools amongst the many classes of people in the North-West, there were only about a dozen separate schools of which probably ten were Roman Catholic and two Protestant. The fact that the minority had the privilege of separating practically complete tolerance on the part of the majority, whether Protestant or Roman Catholic.]

During his remarks Mr. Oliver said that the difference between Protestantism and Roman Catholicism were political rather than religious. He was asked by one of the audience to explain.

In reply he said that Protestantism was the protest of one branch of the Christian church against interference in temporal affairs by the head of another branch of the Christian church, rather than a protest against the expressed faith of that church.

Mr. Oliver closed by saying he had heard that it was not intended to

YESTERDAY'S MATINEE.

The large crowd that was present at the Driving Club's matinee yesterday afternoon saw some good racing. The day was an ideal one for racing and the horses entered contested closely in the different events. In the free-for-all Mambino Gift won first place with Dan Patch second. This gives Mambino two firsts in the series which almost insures him the first prize offered, the same being a good racing "bike".

In the three minute event, Minnie Bull won first place easily with Billy Parslow a good second. Between the harness races were a couple quarter mile sprints by some Edmonton and Strathcona horses, the races being the result of some small bets between the spectators and in each instance the horse belonging to Mr. Lyons of Strathcona was an easy winner.

THE JAIL BUILDING.

Building operations were resumed on the new jail some time since, and good progress is being made. The brick work on the main portion of the building is practically complete and the rafters and sheathing for the roof in place. On the rear portion the walls are up to the third story windows. A few weeks should suffice to finish the outside work; but the work on the interior will require considerable time and the building will probably be ready for occupancy in about three months.

ALBERTA RESCUE HOMES.

The Alberta Rescue Home is located in Calgary and Adjutant Annie Taylor, from headquarters in Alberta, to tell the people living between the two cities of things this home in the interest of humanity is accomplishing. The home's work is assured by the generous impulse of those who maintain its usefulness in catering for the needs of that element of the human suffering through unprotected by any other similar institution. The institution knows no creed of controversial matter. Neither nation, caste, nor cause are barriers to those applying for help. Operating in sunny Alberta, out a few months' evidence of its utility are given by the taxed condition of the resources at the disposal of the management. Careworn and sagging forms of deserted women, parentless children, several whose resources had long been spent in vain efforts to restore lost physical estate, and some who had fallen victims in man's form have been rescued and nursed back into strength. Homes wherein the sick lie prostrate are cheered by the glow carried from thus home to the sufferers in the shape of medicine, food, clothing and tender nursing. The Salvation Army, can, with some measure of propriety, go to this department of their work as beyond and higher than all controversial themes wherein theories do combat. The home is one wherein at any hour of the day or night, strange women may seek and obtain shelter from a pitiless and dangerous world, until the character of the district may be learned. Successive governments, Federal and Provincial, have repeatedly eulogized the rescuing and educating effect of these rescue homes from coast to coast, in reclaiming the fallen and directing them to channels of usefulness. Many are the contributory causes, not the least of which being parental neglect. Moralizing is never the institution's first means of application, however pious the object, but such aid as will restore is given first. Ensign Annie Charlton, in charge of the army work in Edmonton and district, though in the midst of self-denial preparations, has long recognized the importance of the rescue work and generously welcomed Adjutant Taylor to till the field within her domain, that the Home work may not go wanting in that which is essential to its maintenance.

What heavy sheafs of heavy-laden fruit Alberta could subscribe if it would, in money, foodstuffs and clothing for the occupants of that home. It is incumbent upon the government of every town in Alberta to send some little succor to this rescue. Men versed in the control of provincial affairs saw the utility of the home and readily admitted that either the army or some government-supported and instituted Home was necessary. Hence with duty dignity and faith, Adjutant Taylor will continue soliciting means to support this noble and Christ-endorsed mission of love.

LOCAL

—Train on time.
 —Foot ball practice this evening on the Hudson Bay grounds.
 —Six cars of pipe for the waterworks system came in last week and are being distributed.

—A petition has been circulated during the past few days and very largely signed by the business men of the city protesting against the reported action of the Commissioners in engaging an outside man for chief of police.

—Moose Jaw Signal: Mr. F. Fry returned on Monday from a trip to Regina, where he had been figuring on the laying of the municipal sewerage pipes. His firm, Messrs. Dobson, Jackson & Fry, were the lowest tenderers, and were awarded the contract, the figure being $27,500.

—Lethbridge News: The city of Calgary is never without a sensation. First there was Cusker who, for killing a man, was hanged. Then there was Lawyer Bangs, who, for robbing the mails was not hanged, then there were certain convicted felons who, for stealing city lots, resigned by request, and now certain councilmen, who, growing weary of their thankless jobs, have resigned without request.

—Lethbridge News: Mr. McCaig, former principal of the Lethbridge schools, but who has recently been appointed school inspector for the Edmonton district, was a caller at this office one day this week. In conversation with the News Mr. McCaig expressed his opinion that altogether too much fuss was being made over the question of separate schools for the West. The fact that today the number of Catholic separate schools in the Territories is a numerical bagatelle, when compared with the non-sectarian schools is in his opinion, ample evidence that the idea of mixing religious and secular instruction is unpopular in the West.

—The local base ball men are beginning to wake up and do things. They are arranging to secure a good battery and with the old and new men that are now in the city, their supporters seem to think that we are the neighborhood towns are getting together strong teams and if Edmonton is to be first place in sports she will need an exceptionally strong bunch of men. There will be a practice this evening on the Hudson Bay grounds in front of the Richelieu Hotel, after which a meeting will be held in the Windsor Hotel to which all whether players or not, who wish to see the baseball club of Edmonton to success and credit to the city are invited to attend.

—Regarding the report from Victoria, B.C. that Tucker Inlet had been decided upon as the western terminus of the Grand Trunk Pacific, Mr. Frank W. Moore, vice-president and general manager of the G.T.P., made the following statement: "Referring to the report from Victoria as to the location for the establishment of the Grand Trunk Pacific terminals on the Pacific coast having been selected, I may say that the conditions regarding the matter have not changed from what they were a number of months ago. I will be glad to give full information regarding our Pacific coast terminals when the subject has been definitely decided upon, which cannot be, however, until further reports from our engineers have been received."

FIRE REGULATIONS.

Owing to the very dry weather of the past few weeks, prairie fires are reported from many parts of the country and considerable damage has been done in some districts. Under these circumstances the following circular sent out from the Department of the Interior some time since may be of interest and usefulness.

"GENERAL PROVISIONS RELATING TO FIRES—Any person who directly or indirectly:

1. Kindles a fire and lets it run at large on any land not his own property; or
2. Permit any fire to pass from own land; or
3. Allows any fire under his charge, custody or control or under the charge, custody or control of his servant, employee or agent to run at large, is liable to a penalty of $200 in addition to any damages awarded in civil action.

"CAMP OR BRANDING FIRES—Any person who kindles or is a party to kindling a fire for camping or branding purposes and leaves it unextinguished is liable to a penalty of $100.

"CLEARING LAND AND FIRE GUARDS—Any person kindling a fire on any land for the purpose of clearing property, burning stubble or brush or clearing land is liable to a penalty of $100 unless the land on which the fire is started is completely surrounded by a fire guard not less than 20 feet in width, consisting of land covered with snow or water or so worn, graded or ploughed or burned over as to be free of inflammable matter, and unless the fire is also watched during the whole period of its continuance by three adult persons provided with proper appliances for extinguishing prairie fires.

"FIRES SET OUT BY RAILWAY EMPLOYEES—Nothing in the Ordinance prevents any railway company from burning over the land held by it under its right of way, and the land adjoining it to an extent not exceeding 300 feet on each side of the track; but every person causing, commencing or in charge of any such burning shall cause it to be watched and guarded during the whole period of its continuance by at least four men provided with suitable appliances for putting out prairie fires; but should any fire escape or be left unguarded, the person kindling it is liable to a penalty of $100.

"SPRING BURNING—Nothing in the ordinance prevents any person from kindling fire before the seventh day of May in any year for the purpose of clearing any area of land less than 320 acres in extent if such area is surrounded by a proper fire guard of ten feet in width and is continually watched by three adult persons provided with proper appliances for putting out prairie fires; but should any fire escape or be left unguarded, the person kindling it is liable to a penalty of $100.

"FIRES IN LOCAL IMPROVEMENT DISTRICTS—Nothing in the Ordinance prevents the Overseer of a Local Improvement District from setting out a fire for the purpose of making a fire guard, but the fire which it is proposed to burn must be completely enclosed by a fire guard ten feet in width and the fire kindled must be guarded continuously by such number of men (being not less than four) provided with proper appliances for putting out prairie fires as will be reasonably sufficient to control any such fire; and if these precautions are not taken or the fire escapes and runs at large the Overseer is liable to a penalty of $100.

"FIRE GUARDIANS—In addition to such persons as may be specially appointed, all members of the North West Mounted Police Force, Overseers of Local Improvement Districts and Justices of the Peace are ex officio Fire Guardians, with powers of Constables.

"PERSONS WHO MAY BE REQUIRED TO FIGHT FIRES—All grown-up male persons under sixty years of age (other than postmasters, members of the medical profession and railway employees) residing within 10 miles of a prairie, and 15 miles of a forest fire, may be called upon to assist in extinguishing any such fire under a penalty of $5 for refusal.

"THRESHING ENGINES—The following provisions shall be observed in and about the management and operation of engines used for threshing: (1) No engine shall be placed within 30 feet of any building or stack; (2) A metal pan of adequate size filled with water shall be placed under the engine as a receptacle for cinders and ashes; (3) Before the fires are lit in the furnace, and during the time the engine is in operation, the reservoir in the smoke stack shall be filled with water; (4) All cinders and ashes shall be thoroughly extinguished before the engine is removed from any place where it has been in operation; (5) A barrel of water and two buckets shall be placed conveniently to any stack or combustible material near the engine; (6) A spark arrester in good repair shall be used and shall not be opened while the engine is in operation. Any person failing to comply with any of these provisions is liable to a penalty of $5.

The officers of the Department of the Interior have been instructed to aid in carrying out the provisions of the above Ordinance."

WANTED.

GOOD AGENTS FOR THE
 Oliver Typewriter

IN ALL

UNOCCUPIED TERRITORY

Over 100,000 of these machines have been sold in the U.S. within the last few years at the same price which is being charged for any other standard typewriter. This proves conclusively that the OLIVER is the very best machine made regardless of price.

As there is now in Montreal a factory devoted exclusively to the manufacture of this machine, it can be bought in Canada for the same price at which it is sold in the U.S. without adding from $25 to $30 to cover duty and charges, as do all the other standard writers.

This should be a very attractive proposition to any purchaser of writing machines.
